LIES I LOVE

PRESS RELEASE

If you feel like you've been absolutely RUINED by romcoms, make up scenarios about your crush before you go to bed, or find it shocking when your romantic encounters don't live up to your expectations... "Lies I Love" is here to validate every one of your feelings. Living in the intersection of country, rock, and pop, it's an escapist anthem for those who like living in their head. It'll have all the delulu girls scream-singing during the car ride to the bookstore & enrolling in therapy afterwards.

This is the final installment of Cat's debut collection of seven singles. Sonically, these songs were created as an album, but they'll be released as singles and playlisted together under the title "I THINK I LOVE YOU." This collection was inspired by learning how to love in your early twenties - how to love yourself, how to fall in love with someone else, how to fall out of it, and how to create a life you love living... Wait, am I in love?!

The single is available for Spotify pre-save here.

Cat Rian is a Berklee-educated singer, songwriter, and producer who likes to wear pink cowboy boots and cry (a lot). Her music bridges sweet, Kacey Musgraves-esque vocals with Morgan Wallen inspired trap/country beats and delicate, brutally honest lyricism. As a Filipino-American woman who always has something to say, Cat brings a fresh perspective & sound to country music.
